

DIAPER WRECKER

guide to fitted diapers ~ 2013

The most important thing to remember about fitted cloth diapers is that they are not waterproof! A fitted is one part of a two-part diapering system in which a separate waterproof diaper cover is required.

Because fitted diapers have elasticized legs and a snug-fitting waist closure, they contain messes quite effectively. They are highly favored for overnight use, because the entire diaper is absorbent (as opposed to a pocket diaper, for example, where the smaller, rectangular insert is the only absorbent part).

A fitted diaper can have an adjustable rise to make it a “one-size” diaper, in spite of the fact that the terms “fitted” and “one-size” sound like opposites! Fitteds are available with different closures (front snaps, side snaps, hook & loop) or may not have a closure at all, in which case pins, Snappis, or Boingos can be used to secure the waist setting.
